CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Dramatically successful with the unmanned Surveyor moonship, but seemingly jinxed in getting men off the ground, space officials felt confident today that Gemini 9's two dismayed astronauts finally will rocket skyward Friday.

Twice, Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan have donned their flashy space suits and climbed aboard their waiting spaceship; but, twice, they've gloomily taken the slow elevator ride back to the ground.

They get another chance Friday at 9:30 a.m. (EDT) to set out on their 70-hour flight, including satellite rendezvous and 2½-hour space walk after a frustrating two-day delay.

Engineers pinned the blame for the scrubbed Gemini 9 flight Wednesday on a faulty signal relay system. It kept a guidance command from reaching a black box for electronic translation to the spacecraft.

Faulty parts were replaced and preliminary tests indicated the problem had been solved.

However, flight officials still aren't certain a protective shroud around the docking apparatus on one end of the stubby, bottle-shaped line-up target separated as planned once in orbit.

The target, known as an Augmented Target Docking Adapter, blasted off a Cape Kennedy launch pad less than two hours before trouble struck Gemini 9. It continued to circle the earth, performing normally.

Without link-up in Gemini 9's flight plan, the entire timetable in the already revised mission might have to be juggled again.

However, no matter how the sequence of events finally evolve, the Gemini 9 space twins could still accomplish the trick rendezvous exercises, and Cernan would be able to take his elaborate 2½-hour space walk.

All they do in space figures prominently in the U.S. plan to land men on the moon by the end of the decade.

THIS IS A CLOSE-UP view of the plastic, conical shroud which tops the target satellite with which Gemini 9 Astronauts Thomas Stafford and Eugene Cernan are scheduled to attempt docking in space. The shroud apparently failed to separate from the target vehicle after it was blasted from Cape Kennedy, Fla., Wednesday. After the target satellite was in orbit the Gemini 9 mission was scrubbed until Friday morning. (AP Wirephoto)

Soapy-Ferency Get Labor OK

LANSING (AP) — Democrats G. Mennen Williams and Zolton Ferency won overwhelming endorsement for U.S. Senator and governor respectively from the Michigan AFL-CIO Wednesday.

Anticipating their losses, three other major candidates all challenged the union during an afternoon of speeches to either stay neutral or get out of politics.

Former Gov. Williams outpolled Detroit Democratic Mayor Jerome Cavanagh 532-42, with six votes going to incumbent Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., and two to little-known Democrat James Eisman of Detroit.

Ferency, the resigning Democratic state chairman, picked up 561 votes at the special convention to 11 for Democrat Paul Livingston and seven for Republican Gov. George Romney.

Each of the seven candidates spoke for 20 minutes to the union delegates before the balloting. Later, as votes were being counted, State AFL-CIO Director August Scholle and other union leaders attacked the records of Romney and Republicans.

Cavanagh accused unions of only going through the motions of listening to both sides in his fight with Williams.

"Has the mighty labor movement...fallen to so little measure that it must play with a stacked deck?" he asked. He said the AFL-CIO should remain neutral in the Aug. 2 primary as has the Democratic State Central Committee.

Doubts Greet Johnson Rosy Viet Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's optimistic report that preparations for elections in South Viet Nam are moving in a sound direction aroused both hope and skepticism in Congress Thursday.

Johnson told a news conference Wednesday that "while there will be missteps, the direction is sound" toward voting aimed at installing a civilian regime to replace the military government in Saigon.

Senatorial critics and supporters of the President's Viet Nam policies joined in expressing hope that Johnson was right in saying that with "reasonable unity and proper diligence and constant regard for our national interest, we will achieve our objectives here — at home — and there in Viet Nam."

Among those willing to speak out, however, none found quite as much encouragement as Johnson said he did by the progress of a special Vietnamese committee preparing for the election of a constitutional assembly.

Armed Services Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., who supports Johnson's Viet Nam policies, said he thinks "some progress has been made but just how substantial it is will be determined by future events."

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., a foreign relations committee member who has criticized Johnson's course, said in a separate interview "I hope he's right."

"But I think we are in serious trouble not only in Viet Nam but all over the world," he added.

House Passes Controversial Home Rule Bill

LANSING (AP) — The House approved a county home rule bill Wednesday after nearly 16 months of work, debate and delay.

The much-revised, controversial measure was approved 78-29 and sent to the Senate for concurrence in House amendments.

The bill, which passed the Senate early last year, was described as "a cordial invitation to Michigan's counties to accept the opportunity to reorganize their government," by Rep. Francis Beeton, D-Muskegon, chairman of the Towns and Counties Committee.

Opponents called it a destruction of local government.

Taxing Powers
One of the chief changes in the bill since it came from committee last month was the restriction of county taxing powers. In its committee form, a county that adopted a home rule charter could levy any tax that was not prohibited by law.

In its final House shape, it prohibits any specific tax unless it is authorized by the Legislature. Property taxes are not affected by the prohibition.

The bill allows a county board of supervisors to call an election on the question of whether it would go to a home rule form of government.

It also allows five per cent of the registered voters in the county to demand such an election.

The county charter commission and the board of supervisors elected under the new charter — if it were adopted — would have to be elected on a one-man, one-vote basis from single-member districts.

Partisan Election

The measure prohibits the county from taking over a service (such as a water or sewer system) provided by a city without the approval of the city council or commission, or from forcing a service on a city that didn't want it.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has ruled that such a provision would violate state laws establishing home rule cities.

The bill calls for the partisan election of the sheriff, prosecuting attorney, county clerk, treasurer, registrar of deeds and for either the election or appointment of the grain commissioner.

Massive Raids Hit Red North For Third Day

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. planes hammered North Viet Nam in massive raids for a third consecutive day, concentrating once again on anti-aircraft and missile sites. They also made a spectacular strike on a 20-truck Communist supply convoy, U.S. military headquarters reported today.

The heavy air raids Wednesday were carried out at a cost of three more American planes, raising the number of U.S. aircraft shot down over North Viet Nam to 254. One pilot was rescued.

Six planes have been shot down by the Communists since Monday when a break in the weather enabled the United States to step up the air offensive against North Viet Nam.

U.S. ground forces in South Viet Nam made light, sporadic contact with the enemy Wednesday.

U.S. casualties dropped last week, the U.S. command reported, while those of the South Vietnamese and the enemy remained about the same.

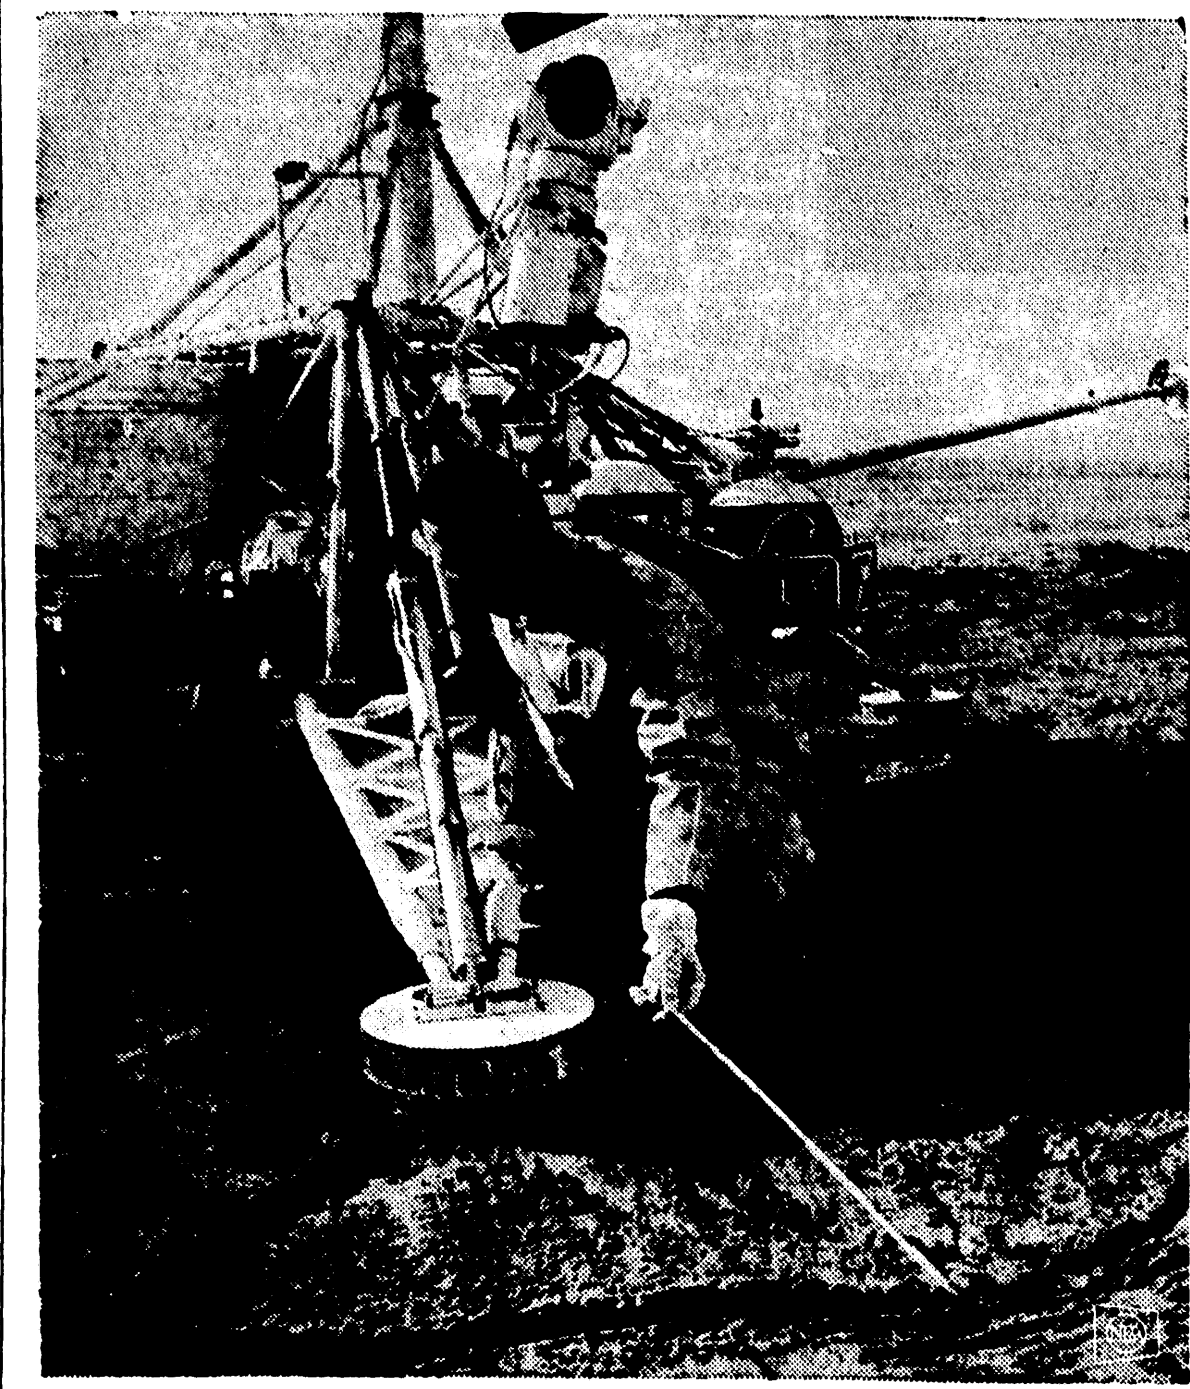

The casualty report for the week ending May 23 listed 87 Americans killed in battle, 605 wounded and two missing. The week before there were 146 American dead, 820 wounded and no missing.

A government spokesman said 240 Vietnamese troops were killed and 55 missing or captured in the week. Australian, South Korean and New Zealand forces reported three battle deaths and six wounded.

Killed In Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marine Cpl. Edward C. Sexton of Three Oaks, Mich., was killed in action in South Viet Nam last Sunday, the Defense Department announced Wednesday. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford G. Sexton, who moved to Three Oaks recently from New Buffalo.

Surveyor Achieves Soft Moon Landing

A TECHNICIAN at Hughes Aircraft Co., Culver City, Calif., is shown marking off area Surveyor 1's camera (center top) was to focus on first after this morning's landing on the moon. After photographing texture of surface encountered by crushable aluminum foot-pads (foreground), camera was to swivel around 360 degrees of moon's surface taking photographs for transmission to earth.

First Pictures Received Show Moon Features

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 1, defying longshot odds against a first-try success, televised earthward today striking photos of the lunar landscape after a seemingly perfect gentle landing on the moon.

The pictures indicated to select viewers at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory that the Sea of Storms target area has a relatively smooth, hard surface apparently suitable as a possible descent point for future astronauts.

The successful touch-down, executed precisely as programmed, was viewed as a long stride forward for the United States' Apollo lunar exploration program. Surveyor's rocket braking system is similar to that on the craft astronauts will use for a landing later in the decade.

A picture series beginning at 5:45 a.m. EDT, using a different TV screen system than that of two earlier batches, showed a broad plain devoid of major features, peppered with either pebbles or pits caused by meteorites. There were several small prominences, and some gouging, as if the surface had been struck by objects from space at an angle.

Show No Damage

The pictures showed no damage to the spidery, instrument-jammed, craft 10 feet high and 14 feet in diameter. They showed its feet resting atop the crust — important evidence in view of opinions of some scientists that the surface might be deep dust or spongy lava that could swallow a landing vehicle.

The 620-pound Surveyor planted its three legs firmly on the lunar crust at 2:17:37 a.m. EDT, 63 hours and a quarter-million miles after its launch Monday from Cape Kennedy.

A laboratory spokesman said after viewing the first 144 pictures — received at the Goldstone tracking station on the desert to the east and relayed here — that the landing was firm enough, however, to cause one foot to make a slight contact depression.

Show Details

A shadow around the edge of one of the two feet within range of the camera indicated the depression was quite shallow — perhaps two inches, the spokesman said.

The camera was shut down when the earth's rotation blocked signals to Goldstone and officials said no further pictures were expected until 11:30 p.m. when Goldstone again is in position to receive. Tracking stations at Canberra, Madrid and Johannesburg were to make engineering checks with surveyor.

Its crucial terminal sequence — a cartwheel in space to point its feet moonward, then at 60 miles out a blast from its powerful retro-rocket engine to slow to landing speed of 8 m.p.h. — ended with all instruments apparently functioning.

Thirty-five minutes later, it began televising pictures sent nationwide and overseas by three networks, employing the Early Bird satellite.

The first batch of three showed a leg and other portions, with the lunar surface in the background.

There was nothing to hint of danger to future manned landing craft.

Pictures Clearer
A second batch of 10 showed more distant terrain — flat and featureless, except for a shadow, apparently that of the spacecraft, in the shape of a three, and what appeared to be a large rock.

The first two series, televised with 200 scan lines compared to 325 for a home screen, were dim and fuzzy and difficult to interpret.

Later shots with 600 scan lines — Surveyor is expected to return hundreds before the chill of the lunar night ends its life 12 days hence — were far clearer. Some shots were expected to be better in quality, experts say, than the nine pictures sent back by the Soviet Union's Luna 9 last Feb. 3.

House Action To Dry Up Weddings

LANSING (AP) — Many wedding receptions and large private parties apparently will be much drier affairs from now on, as the result of House action Wednesday.

The House killed a substitute bill that would have legalized the sale of liquor by caterers who operate private party halls, many such caterers have admitted they have been selling liquor for years as part of their service to private parties — a violation of state law, although it is done with the knowledge of local police authorities.

Rep. Edward Michalski, D-Detroit, chairman of the Liquor Control Committee, said the bill was intended to provide control where none exists now.

Opponents argued that it opened the door to increased liquor sales in total disregard of state laws establishing a maximum ratio of one liquor license for each 1,500 persons in a community, and banning the sale of alcohol within 500 feet of a church or school.

The bill would have required the caterers to pay a licensing fee of $1,000 a year and post a $5,000 bond.

The issue came to a head in Detroit last December. Detroit police ordered a crackdown when at least one caterer advertised a party, open to the public, at which liquor was to be sold.

"The House already killed this bill—by about 60-22," said Rep. John Bennett, D-Redford Township, objecting to the Liquor Committee's tactics in getting the question back on the House floor.

An hour of pleading and argument by Michalski failed to win support for the measure. Once the substitute was killed, he asked to have the measure sent back to his committee—arguing that it would jeopardize another bill that was already passed.

House members refused even to do that much, voting to send the original Senate bill on to the final voting stage. They were ready to reconsider their action, however, when Michalski withdrew his request.

"I was thinking of the wrong bill," he confessed.

Teachers Throw Up Picket Lines

By The Associated Press
Public school teachers seeking to underline labor contract demands failed to report to classrooms today and paralyzed Flint schools and four suburban Detroit systems.

One teachers' union official described the situation as a strike, although such are prohibited by public employees in Michigan. But the law was amended in 1965 to give them the right to organize and bargain collectively.

Dismissal, loss of seniority and other automatic penalties under the previous law were withdrawn.

Gov. George Romney said he would meet later today with the State Labor Mediation Board "to get a full picture of what's happening... and to determine what steps, if any, are to be taken."

"You can't have law and order if public employees can strike with impunity," Romney told a news conference yesterday. Picket lines manned by members of the AFL-CIO Michigan

Federation of Teachers were up at 38 schools in the Detroit area, including schools in Taylor Township, Melvindale and North Dearborn Heights, with a total enrollment of about 24,500.

Members of the independent Michigan Education Association picketed an estimated 55 schools in Flint and forced the closing of all secondary schools — four high schools and eight junior high schools.

Tom Hill, an official of the AFL-CIO union estimated 400 members failed to report and another 100 called in sick in Taylor Township; 125 out of a total of 220 failed to report in Melvindale and 55 out of 113 failed to show up in North Dearborn Heights.

"The strikers are tremendously successful, with the results exceeding our own prediction," said Hill. "A majority of the schools involved are educationally closed, with the remainder crippled."

"There is no real education taking place in any of the three school districts," Hill added.

Findings Open New Paths To Cancer Cause

CHICAGO (AP) — Two findings that open a new approach toward the elusive goal of finding the cause and prevention of cancer were disclosed today by a medical research team from Columbia University.

The researchers presented the strongest tentative evidence yet that cancers may be started by viruses which then move onto repeat their destructive work in adjoining cells.

Dr. John K. Lattimer, co-chairman of the department of urology at Columbia University in New York, said that virus-like particles have been found for the first time in healthy looking cells lying adjacent to cancer cells in prostate glands. They were not found in the cancer cells.

He said his researchers also discovered that these cells, which appeared normal under ordinary-light microscopes, actually were growing at the "same tremendous rate" as cancer cells.

"The discovery of either condition was unusual, but when they appear in combination it becomes exciting," he said in an interview at the annual meeting of the American Urological Association.

Lattimer, who heads the research project, said "the next step which we're working on now" is to attempt to isolate the virus-like particles. Under the electron microscope the particles are identical in appearance to the Lucke tumor virus which causes cancers in frog kidneys.

Car Output For May Is Second Highest Ever

DETROIT (AP) — Auto output last month was the second highest May in history despite a variety of handicaps, including production cutbacks, supplier shortages and labor disputes.

General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors' preliminary reports listed May's car production at 794,524 units. This was well below the record of 837,166 set in May, 1965.

Production for the opening five months of the year came to 4,097,743 cars, more than 160,000 vehicles behind the comparable 1965 figure of 4,259,926 cars.

Even June Fails To Raise Chilly Temperatures

By The Associated Press
The advent of June has failed to raise unseasonably chilly temperatures in much of the eastern and northern sections of the country.

Many low temperature records were broken in Ohio early today. The mercury plunged to 39 at the Canton, Ohio airport, breaking by one degree a record that had stood since 1905.

Thermometer readings were also low in large sections of the South. Temperatures were in the 40s in North Carolina and the north half of Georgia and in the 50s in parts of northern Florida.

Peter Dawkins Will Be Major

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's former All-America Peter Dawkins and the Viet Nam War's first medal of Honor winner both have been tapped for early promotion to major.

The Army announced today selection of Capt. Dawkins and Roger H. Donlon, the Medal of Honor winner, ahead of their normal turn.

The 28-year-old Dawkins of Royal Oak, Mich., recently was the subject of a cover and picture story by Life Magazine. He now is an adviser to a Vietnamese Airborne unit in South Viet Nam.

It was at West Point in the last 1950s that Dawkins made the Associated Press All-America football team. From West Point he went on to Oxford as a Rhodes Scholar.

Donlon, 32, has just completed advanced officers course at Ft. Benning, Ga., and will spend the year at Omaha University.

Nation's Great Also 'Squares' Graduates Told

Many of America's great men and women have also been great "squares" in their devotion to old-fashioned ideals of hard work, service to others, and patriotism, honor students of Escanaba Area High School and Holy Name High School were told Tuesday noon.

Edward E. Edick, Rotarian and for many years principal of the Escanaba Senior High School, discussed "The Return of the Square" at the luncheon program at the House of Ludington.

The Rotary Club annually recognizes the honor students and their parents. Isadore Stein, president-elect of the Rotary Club, conducted the meeting. Guests included Luther M. Barrett, Area School superintendent, and Fr. Lawrence Gauthier, superintendent of Holy Name High School.

Life's Values

Brother Nicholas, principal of the Boys' Department of Holy Name, introduced the honor students of that school; and Robert Mienicki, principal, presented the honor students of the Area High School.

Responses were received by the Rotary Club from the Rotary boys and Rotary girls: Patrick Hughes and Jacquelyn Frey of Holy Name and Rosealie Bresault and Steve Anzalone of the Area High School. The Rotary Club presented each with a watch in recognition of good citizenship.

Edick in discussing "The Return of the Square" said in part:

"In these days of competition, be it economic, social, or political we have closed our eyes to some of the values which have made our people and our nation great.

"We are so anxious to be accepted in all of these areas we tolerate the unethical, the unorthodox, a n d immoral trends for fear we will be considered a 'square'.

"We are apt to follow the mob, which by definition has neither reason nor intelligence; we do what the gang does, we ignore the dictates of our conscience for fear we will not be accepted or popular—we just don't want to be classified as a 'square'.

"By our very passive and oftentimes permissive attitude we unconsciously encourage the minority in acts which are historically contrary to the morals of good society.

The Great Men

"By their very acts they prove their weaknesses. They must hide behind the mob, the gang, for protection. They must do the unorthodox thing to be noticed. They must tear down the American flag to prove they are daring and brave!

"Contrast this scene with that at Iwo Jima where brave men raised the American flag in the face of enemy fire. Which group would you pick to defend the freedoms we believe in?"

Edick said that he appealed "for the return of the square" as something not to be afraid of but something to be proud of.

Edick pointed out that because of their belief in scholarship, excellence, service to fellowmen and high standards of moral conduct, parents and Rotarians might be called "squares".

America's great were also "squares" in their outspoken patriotism—Nathan Hale, Patrick Henry, George Washington, Ben Franklin and Abraham Lincoln.

"Great monuments have been dedicated to the memory of these great old 'squares'," Edick noted.

Food Budgets Hurt By Cold

NEW YORK (AP) — June is bustin' out all over the nation's food markets this week after a long, cool April.

"The cold snap cut normal vegetable and fruit supplies, but with the warm weather, there should be normal supplies starting next week," a New York produce wholesaler said.

The cold weather has been particularly hard on food budgets in the Northeast and Midwest.

Strawberries have to be flown in from California, and are selling for 59 cents a box in New York City — when you can get them.

Leafy vegetables, flown in from Florida, are abnormally high.

But corn on the cob is reasonably priced, carrot prices are edging down and celery supplies are good.

Peach supplies are starting to build up, and prices should begin their summer drop next week. There are plenty of cantaloupes and they are being featured in many areas this weekend.

Potato prices, which were so high last summer, are lower now. So are onions.

Egg prices are 1 to 2 cents a dozen lower in the New York area this weekend. They also are down in the Midwest and on the West Coast. Prices are likely to slip a bit further, and then go up again late this summer.

Fryers are being featured on the West Coast and in the Midwest and Southeast. Prices are likely to be lower most of the summer.

Turkey prices are lower. Beef prices should drop a bit now, and probably increase again in the fall. But prices are spotty.

Michigan's 1980 Population Will Be 10.3 Millions

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan of 1980 will have a population of 10.2 million, employment will be up about 1.2 million from the present figure and the unemployed will number 4.3 per cent of the labor force, a study by an Ohio research group predicts.

These are some of the changes indicated by "The Michigan Manpower Study — Phase I," delivered to the Michigan Employment Security Commission this week by Battelle Institute of Columbus, Ohio.

Battelle Institute collaborated with the MESIC in compiling the first two-decade study of a state's employment by both occupation and industry. MESIC Director Malcolm Lovell Jr. said today.

Phase II of the study is to be completed in November.

The state's population will increase from 1960's 7.6 million to 8.6 million in 1970, 9.3 million in 1975 and 10.2 million in 1980, the study indicated.

Employment in the same four periods is estimated as 2.7 million in 1960; 3.2 million in 1970; 3.5 million in 1975 and 3.9 million in 1980.

The study reported that unemployment will be lower than it has been, but higher than it is now: 2.7 percent in 1960; 1.5 percent in 1970; 1.7 percent in 1975 and 1.9 percent in 1980. The 1960 figure represents 7.4 per cent of the labor force and the 1980 figure 4.3 per cent.

Escanaba Wants Flights

Aerial Bridge Hearing

Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe, chairman of the U. P. Air Service Committee, said that it would present testimony in a Sept. 27 hearing on airline service between Escanaba and Detroit.

Civil Aeronautics Board Examiner Edward Stodola announced in Washington that the hearing follows a May 16 pre-hearing conference among attorneys on the off-again, on-again "aerial bridge" case.

The CAB originally authorized the "aerial bridge" service between Escanaba and Traverse City by North Central Airlines as part of a service from Marquette to Detroit. At present North Central flies a circuitous route via Green Bay, Wis., to connect Upper Peninsula cities with Lower Peninsula cities.

North Central asked CAB for permission to suspend a 5-year trial of the "aerial bridge" flights at mid-term because the flights were not carrying enough passengers under the CAB's "use it or lose it" formula.

The Sept. 27 hearing will consider more than just the aerial bridge. Involved is question whether authority or North Central to serve the route should be renewed in whole or in part and whether the carrier should provide year-around nonstop service between Traverse City and Detroit.

North Central has applied for temporary authority to fly nonstop year-around between Traverse City and Detroit. It now provides seasonal nonstop service on that part of the route.

Mayor Vanlerberghe said that the City of Escanaba is undertaking a large airport development project and is very anxious to schedule maximum airline service here to justify the large outlay of tax money on port facilities.

"We are budgeting $80,000 this fiscal year and the same next year for a city outlay of $160,000. The State will spend as much and the federal government will make up the rest of a $600,000 project to prepare the airport for jet aircraft.

"The aerial bridge flights have been pushed strongly by the State Department of Aeronautics. Our most urgent air service need in Escanaba is for an evening flight south, but we're keeping our hand in this game to get as much air service as we can to serve the needs of our industries and other public needs."

Judge Upholds School's Code

CRYSTAL FALLS — Circuit Judge Ernest W. Brown has upheld the right of Stambaugh high school authorities to bar six seniors from graduation activities because of drinking at a party broken up by police at a private home.

School officials said the conduct violated the school's morals code.

Suit to force the Board of Education to allow the students to participate in the commencement program was brought by parents of four of the boys. Trial lasted two days with 20 witnesses testifying.

In ruling on the case, Brown said "the conclusion reached in this case is not to be construed as authorizing a Board of Education to discipline students for all infractions to law, such as minor game law violations. But school authorities clearly have the right to impose disciplinary measures for conduct outside of school which brings discredit to the school and which is offensive to commonly accepted community standards of moral behavior for young people."

Brown added that "the fact that it (the offense) occurred in a private residence rather than in a camp or public highway is no grant of immunity." The youths were granted diplomas, but not allowed to receive them at commencement exercises.

Msgr. Dunleavy Priest 25 Years

IRONWOOD — Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph J. Dunleavy, JCL, marks his 25th anniversary as a priest this year.

Monsignor Dunleavy has served as a chancery official for much of his priestly career, in addition to parish duties, and he is currently dean of the western U. P. deanery as well as pastor of St. Ambrose of Ironwood. He also heads the planning commission for the forthcoming Diocesan "Little Council" Synod.

Father Dunleavy was ordained June 7, 1941, in St. Peter's Cathedral, where he had been baptized.

He administered St. Joseph's parish, Sault Ste. Marie, from 1950 to 1952, and St. George's of Bark River, from 1952 to April 5, 1955, when he succeeded the late Msgr. Joseph Seifert at Ironwood.

Ore Shipments:

C&NW Loads Out 1 1/2 Million Tons

The Chicago & North Western Railway, heading toward a goal of approximately 6 1/2 million tons of ore to be moved from the Escanaba dock this season, has loaded out a total of 1,559,926 tons to June 1, it is reported by Lee McMillan, dock agent.

About 55 per cent of the ore shipped from the North Western's big dock so far this spring is pelletized.

The volume of pelletized ore, processed from low grade ores into pellets of higher iron content, continues to grow as beneficiation plants increase their production. The major mining companies have pelletizing plants on both the Marquette and Menominee iron ranges.

Last year the ore shipped by the North Western from Escanaba was about 50 per cent pellet, the remainder natural ore. This year the percentage of pellet ore will be higher.

Shipments at Escanaba in May totaled 819,935 tons in 59 boats. This compares to 871,196 tons in 61 boats for the same month a year ago, the dock agent said.

"There was a lull for a week or so in mid-May," McMillan said. "Traffic is up again now, however, and the total for this year will be right up there with last year."

Sales Tax Rises For 52nd Month

LANSING (AP)—State sales and use tax collections in May showed a gain over the same period one year ago for the 52nd consecutive month, reports Revenue Commissioner Clarence Lock.

The $56.07 million total for the month was an increase of $2.75 million over the month a year ago.

Lock said the rate of increase, down to 5.2 per cent, has slackened over the last few months.

Collections from motor vehicle sales were down $1.6 million for the month from last year.

No. 3 For Romney

Governor George Romney has announced for a third term, as expected.

He will be unopposed on the Republican ticket and so, too, presumably, will be Zolton Ferency on the Democratic ticket.

In making his announcement Romney cited a long list of achievements of his administration including a 90.6 per cent increase in state support of education from kindergarten through college, a 47 per cent increase in appropriations for mental health, near doubling of facilities for juvenile delinquents, civil rights progress, stimulation of marketing of Michigan farm products, government reform efficiencies, attack on traffic hazards, probation and parole overhaul in a crime control program, strengthening of local government by 21 per cent increase in state aids in three years.

Ferency said that the credit for these achievements should go to the Democratic Legislature and not Romney and certainly it shares the credit, having increased the Romney budget figures for education in some instances and generally having shown an inclination toward liberality with the people's money. Romney, for instance, wanted veterans' homestead tax exemptions related to the degree of disability, with higher exemptions for severely wounded veterans.

It irks Democratic politicians that Michigan elects them to its Legislature and then turns about and puts Romney in the governor's chair. They throw out his budget and substitute their own and they give some of his appointees to state office a bad time, but his stature grows nationally. Currently he and Senator Javits (R-N. Y.) are much talked of as possible choice of the 1968 Republican convention for President and Vice President.

The people sense that in Romney they have an unusual leader to whom fiscal integrity is not a political phrase but a working policy for government. More than a conservative politician, he is a former industrial executive turned government official and he really believes that administrations should not pander with the public funds to maintain themselves in office, but should impress upon the citizens that it is their money that the politicians are spending.

The Romney political charisma is potent. There's been nothing like it in Michigan since Soapy Williams' days and there's a polar difference between the two men, who are in political combat in this year's campaign, although not seeking the same office. Williams served an unprecedented 6 terms as governor with a Republican Legislature. He changed Michigan's Republican habit but his successor, Governor John B. Swainson, couldn't keep the Democratic magic going under challenge by Romney.

Romney beat Swainson by 80,572 votes and went back two years ago to dump Democrat Neil Staeleby by an amazing margin of 382,913 votes when Lyndon Johnson was sweeping the state. Romney didn't support Barry Goldwater because of his civil rights stand and this cost him some support by far right Republicans, but won him stature with middle ground voters who weren't strongly Republican nor Democratic.

That 1964 victory in the midst of the Goldwater debacle for the Republicans pushed him into front rank consideration for the Presidency. He'll be watched nationally in November's election to see if he can win big for the governorship and carry Senator Bob Griffin and some Republican congressmen into office with him. That'll be a big test for any Presidential hopeful.

The situation suggests that Romney can be expected to be more of a team player in this campaign, but with the notable distinction that it is his team.

The Doctor Says:

Blood Pressure May Vary

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt
Q—I am 57 years old and have high blood pressure. What does this mean? Should I have a cocktail before dinner be-
A—You failed to say what the lower reading was. Many young persons have an unstable systolic pressure which is of little significance. If your son were to lie down and have his pressure taken every 15 minutes it would most likely return to normal in less than 30 minutes. As long as his diastolic pressure is within normal limits there is no cause for alarm.

Q—A friend has a blood pressure of 180 over 110. I didn't think a person could have so high a diastolic pressure and be able to work. Isn't she in danger of having a stroke?

A—High blood pressure does predispose to a stroke but it doesn't usually cause any warning symptoms. Your friend should be treated to bring her diastolic pressure down below 100.

The rice diet was highly successful in reducing blood pressure when properly administered but was too unpalatable for most persons and was deficient in protein. It has no advantage over a more liberal diet that is poor in sodium and is now rarely prescribed. Substitutes for table salt are now available for persons who don't like unsalted food.

What causes high blood pressure? Can it be cured? Are there any side effects from drugs given to reduce high blood pressure?

A—The cause of high blood pressure is not always apparent but nervous tension and obesity certainly aggravate it. Although a cure is unlikely it is both possible and advisable to control this condition. Many different drugs are used for this purpose and all of them may have undesirable side effects but, by skillfully adjusting the dosage and switching from one to another, your doctor can help you avoid these.

Q—My 18-year-old son gets excited when his blood pressure is taken and the doctor

UPCAP Planning Sixth Election Here On June 14

UPCAP will hold its annual meeting at Escanaba on June 14, says Chairman Harold Dettman. The meeting will open in the State Office Building at 10 a. m., and like all UPCAP meetings is open to the public. Delegates will elect officers for the coming year. Speakers will also report on recent developments. Joseph Tuma, acting director of UPCAP, will discuss its recently approved on-the-job training program which is scheduled to get underway soon. He will also discuss new plans for more extensive manpower programs.

Lions To Attend U. P. Convention

Six members of the Escanaba Lions Club will attend the annual Upper Peninsula Lions Convention this weekend at Munising. Representing Escanaba will be Don Scott, Ralph Anderson, Don Breault, Fred Saykily, Don Haapala and Harold Olson and their wives. The three-day convention begins Friday with Thomas F. Gwynn Jr., Clinton, Mich., guest speaker at the governor's dinner. An international luncheon will close the convention Sunday.

Briefly Told

The St. Joseph class of 1941 will have a reunion meeting tonight, June 2, 8 p. m., at the Chamber of Commerce.

An immunization clinic will be held Friday afternoon from 2 to 4 at the Delta County Building.

A Barbershop Craft session is scheduled for Bay de Noc Chorus members from 8:01 to 8:31 this evening at Carpenters' Hall. All interested male singers are invited. Lunch will be served.

It is expected that Gordon Wright of the Washington Office of the Economic Development Administration will be on hand to describe the progress of the Economic Development Program in the U. P., and in particular the progress of UPCAP's application for a technical assistance grant.

There will be a report on a newly approved program to provide legal service to the indigent and Fred Hahne, Manistique banker and treasurer of UPCAP, will describe the progress that has been made in setting up a Small Business Investment Corp., in the U. P.

There will also be a report from Michigan State University's regional center on the June 21-23 air tour of the U. P., that the university has planned for representatives of national periodicals. Also on the agenda will be reports on recent planning for community and mental health services.

The Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress's annual election officers will be its sixth. Present officers are Harold Dettman of St. Ignace, chairman; Lynn Sandberg, L'Anse, vice chairman; Fred Hahne, Manistique, treasurer; and Harold Vanlerberghe, Escanaba, secretary. These officers constitute the executive committee of UPCAP, along with Mrs. Geraldine DeFanti, Marquette, representing the Community Action Agencies, and Dr. Claud Bosworth, Marquette, representing the universities serving the U. P.

UPCAP as an organization consists of 24 members or delegates. The county boards of supervisors appoint one delegate each, except Marquette County, which is not a member. The six Community Action Agencies also appoint one delegate each, and each of the four universities operating in the peninsula is allowed a delegate.

Marker Honors Delta's Pioneers

"There's more to history than dates. The important thing is people," Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe told the Delta County Historical Society at a meeting Wednesday night.

The people to whom he referred were the sturdy pioneers who first settled in Delta County on the banks of the Escanaba River some 130 years ago.

The Historical Society program was devoted to the area along the lower Escanaba River, now centered by Pioneer Trail Park, which is to be the site of a historical marker. The wording for the state-approved marker is now being prepared.

The marker near the entrance to Pioneer Trail Park and another at the Whitefish Hill east of Rapid River will be erected this summer, financed by a $500 gift from The Escanaba Daily Press. The Whitefish Hill marker will direct attention to the old Indian trail that extended along the Whitefish River from Little Bay de Noc to Lake Superior.

Mayor Vanlerberghe, the author of history of the Groos community which is the location of the earlier river settlement talked to the Historical Society at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce building. He traced the beginning of sawmill operations on the river, starting about 1835. The first mills were water-powered. One of these was located on the island immediately above the Mead Corp. paper mill.

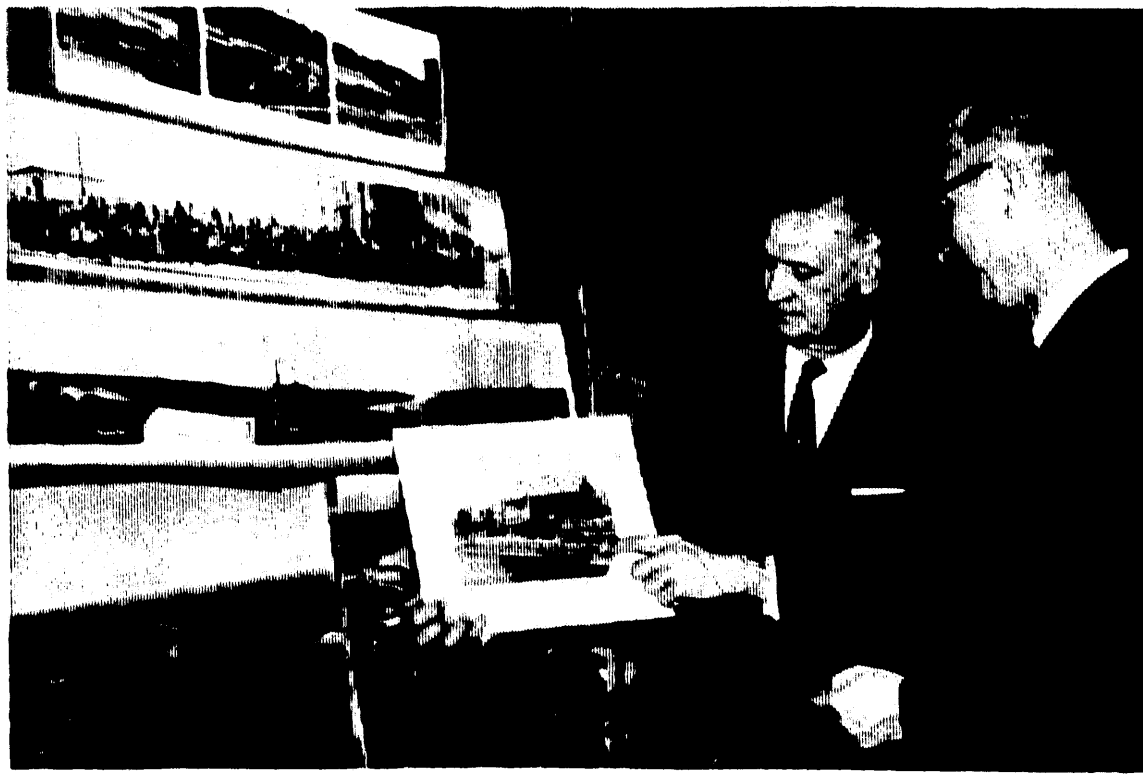

In times of low water the old coffer dam and foundation structure of the mill is revealed, he reported.

Vanlerberghe described the procession of pioneers who harnessed the river for power and eventually brought to Wells at the river mouth one of the largest lumber producing industries in the world.

There was Louis Roberts, first settler, and his Indian wife, a family whose descendants still reside in Delta County; the Smith brothers, Billings, Chandler, the Langleys and others; and in a somewhat later period Nelson Ludington, Isaac Stephenson and Samuel Wells.

Biggest In World
"We can only be impressed with the terrific strength and resourcefulness of these people," Vanlerberghe commented. He said that more young people of today should become interested in local history and thereby "learn of the pioneer spirit of their forebears."

about 1851 when Nelson Ludington purchased the Smith brothers mill.

This development reached its culmination with the vast logging and milling complex of the I. Stephenson Co. at Wells. During its peak years of operation it was the largest lumber concern in the world.

"The company shipped one million board feet of lumber a day for 45 consecutive days. It had a world-wide market for its product, employed 2,500 to 3,000 men in its total operations, and its horsepower totaled 150 teams."

Robert Schmeling, Historical Society president, conducted the meeting.

The next membership meeting of the Society will be in attendance with the U. P. Historical Conference to be held in Escanaba July 29-30.

Reports were presented by Will Marble, Harold Bergman, Charles Folio and Algot Gustafson.

Bass Season Opens Strong

Bass fishermen found fish in the Ford River ready and waiting Wednesday on opening day and with warming weather fishing should get even better in the next few days, according to Conservation officers.

Officers said 42 cars were counted between the fishing site and boat launching area at 7:30 a. m. There were about 100 fishermen and 30 boats in the area.

Limit catches were frequent and some fishermen were homeward bound as early as 7:30 a. m.

Largest fish reported was a 3 pound, 7 ounce smallmouth taken about 10:30 from the Ford River by Ernest Pratt of Portage, Mich., who is vacationing in Escanaba. Pratt caught the 21-incher using worms on the bottom near the mouth of the river.

Conservation officers said worms and night crawlers appeared to be producing best results, though some bass were being taken on spoons and yellow and orange Abu-Matics. Most of the catch was small-mouth with average length of 40 fish checked by officers about 11½ inches.

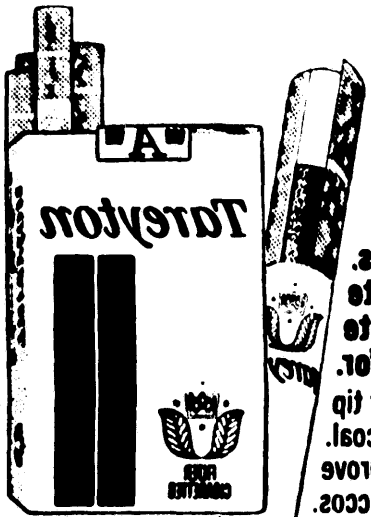

The Bark River also had some fishermen, but success did not appear as good as the Ford River, officers said. Several fishermen checked above the No. 3 dam on the Escanaba River did not have any fish.

Armenia Modern, 'Has Gangsters'

YEREVAN, Soviet Armenia.—The Araks Cafe has the reputation of being the swangiest place in town.

"That's the place to go for music, dancing, things happening," a young Armenian advised. This night it was rather quiet, however. No band. Students with hair over the backs of their collars sat around talking.

Senate Nixes Ballot Changes

LANSING (AP)—The Senate rejected Wednesday two proposed election law changes that could have hurt — or at least embarrassed — Republicans in November.

One would have put the U.S. Senate race, rather than the gubernatorial race, at the head of the ballot.

Under the present system, the Republican ticket leader in 1966 will be Gov. George Romney, favored to win a third term in his race against Democratic challenger Zolton Ferency.

The change would have allowed Democrats to lead their ticket with their Senate candidate, either former Gov. G. Mennen Williams or Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh.

Sen. Edward Robinson, D-Deerborn, argued that the change would put the ballot in logical order, with national races first, then state and then local.

The other proposed change would have banned the picture of any living person in political party vignettes which appear on ballots. Romney's likeness is in the GOP vignette. Williams' recently was removed from the Democratic vignette because of his primary contest against Cavanagh.

Out on the street corner, a group of youths wanted to know about the Beatles and other musical groups.

"The Beatles are very popular here," because of foreign radio broadcasts, one student assured a foreigner. On the hill over the city four towers for radio jamming stand unused now but still available for any policy change on allowing foreign stations to be heard.

Another student said they have their own six-man band for the kind of modern Western youth music that Soviet authorities frowned upon. They call themselves Svetlyaki — the Glow Worms.

"We have gangsters here," a student volunteered brightly. "Little ones, not like American ones. They sell opium from Tashkent," in Soviet central Asia.

Opium-rich poppies grow on the rugged hills around Yerevan, the capital of Soviet Armenia. The smallest republic in the Soviet Union, Armenia has 11,600 square miles and borders Turkey and Iran.

Yerevan is a boom town, reflecting the industrialization of Armenia as part of Soviet economic development plans. With 643,000 residents, the city now has about a third of the republic's population.

City planners are expecting a million residents by 1980.

As in the rest of the Soviet Union, there is a housing shortage here. One young man reports a three-year wait for an apartment. Meanwhile he lives with his wife and baby in one room of his parents' small apartment.

What Quality Beef Does A&P Sell?

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U.S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see... we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading—not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.

Are "Super-Right" Meats a good reason for shopping A&P?

Antipoverty Cash Is Used Promoting Hate

NEW YORK (AP) — Rejected twice, Harlem's controversial Black Arts theater mysteriously tapped federal antipoverty funds on the third try and spent at least $115,000 on cultural programs including "hate-white" plays in filthy language for youth in the streets, a special investigating team has reported.

Black Arts financing was choked off last Sept. 7 just short of midpoint in its 10-week stand. Sargent Shriver of the Office of Economic Opportunity later called it one of the "disappointments of the antipoverty campaign," and said "no federal dollars should have gone to the Black Arts."

A special study singled out numerous "wrongful acts" involving not only Black Arts but also another HARYOU-ACT project in the $2 million crash program to keep Harlem cool last summer.

Among examples cited were diversion of youth workers and supplies from public "vest-pocket park" projects to private construction, kickbacks of pay, a revolving open-end petty cash fund without controls, unauthorized spending, lavish use of rented cars and station wagons, and funding of imposter "ministers" with fake "churches" and "day-care" centers.

The study was made by an internal investigations committee of the HARYOU-ACT board of directors, set up last Oct. 11. The report was received by the board but has not been made public. A copy of principal sections was obtained by an Associated Press reporter team.

The committee was headed by Samuel R. Pierce Jr., former New York judge and member of various state and city boards who now is with a Park Avenue law firm. Its 12 other members included two other lawyers, two clergymen, three educators, a physician and an architect.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan began his own investigation last fall.

"Records show that the Black Arts theater was turned down for funding as part of the crash program and that OEO had also refused to grant it funds," the Pierce Committee report said.

"Had the board of directors been keen and observant," it added, "Black Arts could not have entered PUL (Project Uplift, the summer program) in the circuitous manner in which it did."

"The Black Arts theater was made to appear to be operating as 'day camps,' the report continued, 'with a condition which states that only $2,800 worth of 'consumable goods' was to be provided."

But that much was spent for just three items, the report said — $1,200 on men's suits, $800 for a tape recorder and $800 for a rented living room suite.

It added: "From documents in our possession, Black Arts spent at least 90 times the sum of $1,200."

That would be $115,200. Livingston Wingate, executive director of HARYOU-ACT, said in a recent "reconstruction" of summer program spending that Black Arts had cost $95,150.

The Pierce report continued: "Purchases included women's stockings, shawls, fur pieces, men's clothing, men's shoes, four gravity knives, three blank pistols, gallons of house paint, electrical light fixtures, etc."

Oppose Bearing Arms, 200 Train For Medic Duty

GRAND LEDGE (AP) — More than 200 young Seventh Day Adventist men, including one who walked about 135 miles from Ludington, began training Tuesday in how to serve the Army without carrying a gun.

The religious group, which claims about 365,000 adult members in the United States and Canada, opposes bearing arms. Its members customarily serve in medical divisions of the Army.

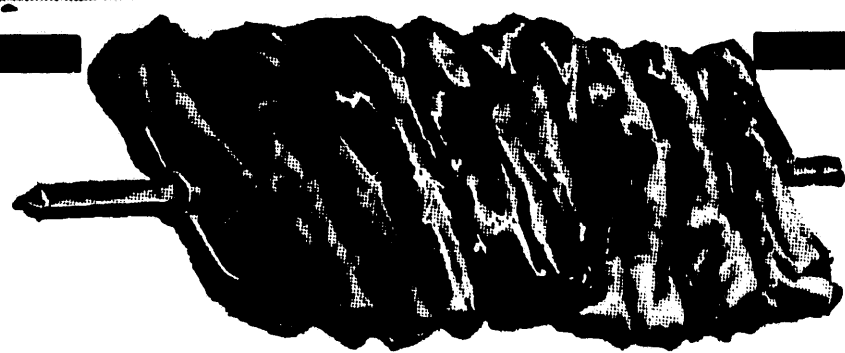

Wayne Leque, 17, of Two Rivers, Wis., walked from Ludington after his money was lost or stolen on the boat from Manitowish, Wis. He said he had a lift from a motorist for about 25 of the 160 miles.

His 14-day walk completed, Leque suffered a knee injury playing football with other young men in the camp and now is on crutches.

An Adventist spokesman said the young men, at their own expense, receive 10 days of training similar to the Army's basic medical training.

An average of more than 25,000 ships arrive and depart annually from the port of New York, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Ordination Class To Mark Silver Jubilee

The ordination class of 1941, still the largest in the history of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Marquette, formally marks its Silver Jubilee, Tuesday, June 7, at St. Anne's Church in Escanaba at 4 p. m., by celebrating Mass with the Most Rev. Bishop Thomas L. Noa, D. D.

For all 12 priests, nine ordained June 7, 1941 by Bishop Francis Wagner, one ordained that December by Bishop Wagner and two who began their careers as Order priests elsewhere, personal and parish observances have bracketed the formal celebration day.

Ordained 25 years ago on June 7 were: Fr. Thomas M. Andary, Fr. Aloysius Ehlinger, Msgr. Joseph J. Dunleavy, Fr. Walter J. Franczek, Fr. Norbert Freiburger, Fr. Clifford Nadeau, Msgr. Oliver O'Callaghan, Fr. Charles Reinhart, and Msgr. David P. Spelgatti. Ordained Dec. 19, 1941, was Fr. Jerome L. Larsen.

Largest Class
Ordained by the Most Rev. Richard (now Cardinal) Cushing, in Framingham, Mass., June 22, 1941, was Fr. Stephen L. Mayrand. Ordained by the Most Rev. Bishop M. E. Kiley in Milwaukee, July 1, 1941, was Fr. John J. Chrobak.

The impetus for the size of the class came from the wish of the Most Rev. Bishop Paul J. Nussbaum, fifth Bishop of Marquette, to build a sizeable native-born clergy.

Up to that time, peninsula young men had entered the seminaries almost on an individual basis. At least half of the clergy was not of U. P. origin.

In 1929, ten boys began their high school years in the seminary. Although their ranks were thinned in the years of training, they were joined by those who had attended public or parochial high schools for a time.

Host Pastor

The 12 priests have given a total of 300 years of service to the priesthood, 287 of those years being spent in 46 different parishes in the U. P.

Father Mayrand will be host pastor as his classmates gather of their Silver Jubilee celebration at St. Anne's. He came to the Diocese of Marquette in April, 1950 and is the only non-midwesterner in the group.

Fr. Mayrand was born April 11, 1916 (he's the youngest of the class) in Dover, N. H., one of seven sons (there were also seven daughters) of Philippe L. and Corinne.

Oct. 1, 1960, he was named pastor of St. Anne's. The parish completed building new facilities in 1963.

Guest prizes were awarded to Mrs. James Pascoe and Mrs. C. E. Johnson.

In addition to serving as hostesses for the day, Mrs. Thomas Bartoszek and her committee had decorated the tables with arrangements of spring flowers. House chairman, Mrs. Hazen Hengesh and her committee were busy during the afternoon with new draperies.

Dinner chairman for Wednesday, June 8 is Mrs. George Bathke and she will be assisted by the following: Mesdames William Perron, Albert Taylor, Ralph Secrist, James Shomin, Leslie D. Peterson, Rodger Murray, Jacob Olsen and Robert Goodreau. Bridge will begin at 4 p. m.

Weekend Shopper Finds Best Grocery Bargains

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housewives struggling with their mounting food budget can take this shopping hint from the President's adviser on consumer affairs: "You're not going in there for amusement. You can get romance somewhere else — cheaper."

"Grocery shopping," Esther Peterson, assistant secretary of labor, added in an interview today, "is a serious job to get done in the most efficient, economical way possible. Ignore the music. Read labels."

An Associated Press survey of 12 cities showed Tuesday that the cost of a typical week's shopping climbed nearly 7 per cent in the past year.

The AP housewife brigade concluded that the government price index fairly reflects a hard fact: it costs more to feed the family.

For housewives trying to save money, Mrs. Peterson, a mother of four and a specialist on shopping trends, has some ready advice:

1. Be a weekend shopper. Midweek prices range 7 to 10 per cent higher on many items.
2. Shop the specials. You can save 6 per cent on a weekly food bill of $30.
3. Plan your menus with an eye on the advertisements. Make a list. Follow it once you get in the store.
4. Avoid impulse buying.
5. Whenever possible, buy in quantity on sale. Buy cleanser this week, 10 cans of peas next week.
6. Shop alone when possible.

7. Test products. Buy one package each of four kinds of beans and compare them. Often, she says, store brands are just as good and cheaper.
8. Look for the lowest prices. You can knock $2 off an average $30 food bill by picking lower priced brands. Notice fluctuations.
9. Substitute foods: chuck for rib roast, dry milk for fresh, margarine for butter, poultry and fish for red meat, hamburger for steak, casseroles for meat dishes.
10. You pay high for convenience foods. Think: can I add the mushrooms cheaper? Maybe you don't even want mushrooms.

School Board Makes New Salary Offer To Teachers

In a new effort to reach agreement on next year's contract with the teachers bargaining representatives, the Escanaba Area Public Schools Board of Education made a new offer to the local chapter of the MEA at their negotiating meeting Wednesday night.

Included in the Board's new offer were improved salary increases for all teachers each year from the sixth through the eleventh year of employment. Also included was a compromise offer from the Board to provide a duty-free lunch hour for all elementary teachers.

The new salary schedule offered by the Board would bring top salaries for Escanaba teachers to $8,025 for teachers with a Bachelor Degree and ten years teaching experience, and to $8,475 for teachers with a Master Degree and the same experience.

Starting salaries for inexperienced teachers would be $5,350 and $5,650 for the same categories, as proposed last week. Salaries are for a 38 week year, or 190 contract days.

perverse the lunch room would require additional dollars, and that all available free funds had been committed to salaries.

Meeting Scheduled

The MEA negotiating committee tentatively has accepted the salary schedule on behalf of the teacher's group, but repeated its demand for the noon-hour relief at the high school, and for insurance benefits for every teacher to be paid by the Board.

Because it was impossible to reach agreement last night, and because final determination of the State Aid formula will not be made by the State legislative sessions until June 10, further bargaining sessions will not be held until after that time. The next meeting of the two groups has been set for June 17.

Recruiting Posters May Greet Sergeant

WYANDOTTE (AP)—When wounded Marine Sgt. Gerald J. Petras comes marching home from Viet Nam he could find a likeness of himself as big as the side of a house welcoming him.

But it is likely he will not. Just the same, for that hoped-for visit in July or August his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Petras are saving a bigger-than-life poster, 10 by 20 feet, of their son as a present for him.

Mama doubts they'll plaster the outside of the house with it, explaining: "We don't have much room."

The big one may stay rolled up, but the Petrases still will have a poster of Gerald the size of a bulletin board and one for a desk, as well.

It all came about thus: Mrs. Petras, whose son has been in Viet Nam since last July, was on her way to Florida April 9 when she spotted a picture on a highway billboard near Elowah, Tenn.

"I thought it was Gerry, but I couldn't be sure," Mrs. Petras said. "So we stopped and took pictures of it. I was so excited I couldn't think what to do."

Mrs. Petras stayed overnight in Elowah, hoping to learn where she could get a copy of the poster, but since it was Easter, local recruiting offices were closed.

Later in Detroit, the Petras' contacted The Detroit Free Press to try to obtain a copy of the poster. It was 18 months old and outdated.

But Marine Sgt. Kelton Riley, a recruiter, dug and says he is sending them a giant billboard sheet, 10 by 22 feet, a desk poster and one for a bulletin board.

Red Trawlers Tag 7th Fleet

ABOARD CARRIER ENTERPRISE, Off North Viet Nam (AP)—The Russians and the U. S. 7th Fleet are following each other around in the seas off Viet Nam.

The game is called "Comrade" by the Americans. It's played this way:

A Soviet fishing trawler, equipped with an unusual amount of radar, shows up a few miles from the 90,000-ton, nuclear-powered Enterprise.

Its mission, apart from fishing, is snooping.

It wants to find out how many planes are aboard the carrier, how many are launched each day for attacks against North Viet Nam and any other information.

When the trawler shows up, the word goes round the Enterprise: "Comrade is shadowing us again."

A few miles behind, however, the fast nuclear-powered missile frigate Bambridge is shadowing the Soviet shadower.

This keeps up for a few hours until Comrade drops out of sight, only to reappear a day or two later.

No guns are fired. No one makes any hostile moves. The ships don't even signal each other.

"They seem to want to be friendly," says Capt. James L. Holloway, skipper of the Enterprise.

"We haven't made any contact with them. They have every right to be here on the high seas."

But I can't imagine what kind of information they're getting. We've got some of our planes below the flight deck which they can't see. The others we keep in motion day and night so they can't have much of an idea of what's going on.

"They don't bother us and we don't bother them."

'Sincere' Thief Swindles Widow Of Life Savings

A 65-year-old Escanaba widow was swindled Wednesday of $2,600 — most of her life savings — by a fast-talking man posing as a detective.

Mrs. Mary Tolman, 1412 N. 19th St., told Escanaba police that the man who telephoned her at home asked her to cooperate in catching a thief by withdrawing money from her savings account at an Escanaba bank.

In response to the man's first call at about 10 a. m. Wednesday, Mrs. Tolman went to the bank in a cab summoned for her by the man, and withdrew $1,400. The money was in $50 and $100 denominations.

Following instructions she had been given over the telephone, she walked down Ludington St. until a man accosted her and asked if she had brought the money. She was told that if she continued to follow instructions she would receive a reward of $2,000.

The man wore a dark suit and brown hat, was in his early 40's, had brown eyes, weighed about 145 pounds and was about five feet two inches tall, she told police later.

She returned to her home by cab. Again the man, still posing as a detective, telephoned to suggest that if she would withdraw $1,200 more she would receive an additional reward of $1,000.

She returned to the bank in the cab that had been summoned for her, withdrew $1,200 and gave it to the man on the street. He "sounded well educated and sincere," Mrs. Tolman told police. The $1,200 was in $20 bills.

Police said Mrs. Tolman was told to return home, say nothing and wait for her reward.

She became concerned and telephoned police with her story at 7:16 p. m. Wednesday.

Escanaba Police Chief Harold Finman described Mrs. Tolman as the victim of "an old swindle game with many variations."

Finman said that since the incident, police have learned of other women who received calls similar to that which deceived Mrs. Tolman. He suggested that in any case where cooperation of law officers is requested, the request should be verified by contacting local law officials.

Schoolcraft Changes Mind Road Board On Elective Basis

MANISTIQUE—At a special meeting Wednesday night, the Schoolcraft County Board of Supervisors voted 7 to 4 to return Schoolcraft Road Commission posts to an elective basis.

On April 27, the board moved to have the commissioners appointed instead of elected. Casting no votes were Wells Bowers, Loyal Lake, Francis Morrison and Joe Carley. Harold Peters abstained; and Floyd Sample was absent. On May 16, a similar proposal ended in a tie vote.

During last night's discussion, Supervisor Morrison asked if trustee positions at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital should also be elective. No action was taken.

In other business, the board approved for the August 2 primary ballot a proposal to levy 18 mills on a schedule revised from that adopted earlier. The board voted on May 16 to place on the ballot the changed millage distribution recommended by the Tax Allocation Board but Prosecuting Attorney William Sheehan said this was not in compliance with law.

The Allocation Board met before last night's meeting and recommended this distribution: County, 8.425 mills; school district, 8.425 mills; intermediate school district, 0.15 mills and in townships where needed, 1 mill.

This distribution, which added 1/2 mill to the intermediate school district, was adopted by the County Board Wednesday night, 9 to 3. No votes cast were Agner Delin, Francis Morrison, and Lindsley Fritzsche. If approved by the voters, it would be in force for five years.

Democrats Kill Vet Tax Bill

LANSING (AP)—House Democrats Wednesday turned down a Republican's offer to help them override Gov. George Romney's veto as the veterans property tax exemption was killed for apparently the last time.

Defeated 57-41 was a move by Rep. Harry Demaso, R-Battle Creek, to discharge the General Taxation Committee of a bill he said could have been amended to increase property tax relief to veterans this year.

"I'll give you the vote you need if this bill is passed and vetoed by the governor," said Rep. Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena. "So, there's no excuse for not getting it out of committee and passing it."

Romney has twice vetoed bills to grant a flat increase in the $2,000 exemption on the property of disabled veterans and widows of all veterans. He has insisted on a graduated plan—pegged to the degree of disability—and an exemption for widows set at the $2,500 level granted to senior citizens.

House Republicans have held firm both times — denying the Democrats the one vote they needed for a two-thirds majority (74 votes) to override Romney's veto.

Corunna Bears Gone; Missed

CORUNNA, Mich. (AP) — The bears are gone, and some people here can't bear it.

For 60 years, the children of Corunna had trudged down to McCurdy Park to see the several generations of black bears kept penned there.

But one morning last week, Arthur Graham, the street commissioner for this Central Southern Lower Michigan town of about 3,000 residents, shot the last two remaining bears. They died quietly but the residents howled.

"I couldn't see spending money for tranquilizers when they were going to be shot anyway," said Graham. "That would have been a waste of money."

The town budget included money this year for either fixing the bears' pens or getting rid of the animals.

Efforts were made by city officials to place the bears elsewhere but they found that there is no call for black bears in the state.

City Clerk Bernice Hagadon said a conservation officer told her the town should get a veterinarian to put the bears to sleep before shooting them.

"I couldn't see any sense in monkeying around for half a day doing that," Graham commented. "They would have suffered more if we had tried to put them asleep with tranquilizers than this way."

"They didn't suffer at all when I shot them."

A random sampling of opinion by an Owosso Argus Press reporter showed strong sentiment for keeping the bears, however. Only one of some 30 persons interviewed indicated satisfaction with the city's action.

"I feel we lost a little something that was part of Corunna," said Mrs. Cecilia Townsend, owner of one of the town's two drugstores. "I've taken my grandchildren to see the bears, and I know a lot of children liked them."

"It was pretty cruel," said Mrs. Ruth Rensberry, mother of one. "If the bears were anywhere near clean, they should have kept them. I know the kids liked them. When I was a child, I liked to go down and see them."

Druggist David Schwab said he thought getting rid of the bears was a good idea.

Mayor Don Burman said he wished the bears could have been taken care of in a different way. "But they're gone, and I'm not sorry," he added.

Last September, two boys aged 10 and 11 climbed over the fence into the bear pens and played with the bears for a few minutes before climbing out, the mayor said.

"I can face a few people wanting the bears kept here," Burman said. "But I don't think I could live with it if some children got mauled by them."

Detroit School Boycott Had National Attention

DETROIT (AP)—Nobody paid much attention when a handful of dissatisfied students organized a boycott of classes six weeks ago at Detroit's predominantly Negro Northern High School.

But within days, the handful had been joined by most of the school's 2,300 students in a four-day walkout, had won support from adult civil rights groups, set up a freedom school and won the apparent removal of their principal.

Northern still bears the marks of the bloodless rebellion and students, teachers and parents are attempting to resolve grievances in a move that could alter the city's entire educational setup.

The student attitude is perhaps best described by 17-year-old Charles Colding's comment that he is adopting a "wait and see attitude" pending a final settlement of school problems.

Colding was a leader of the April 20 boycott which sought the removal of Principal Arthur T. Carty and improvement in what the students claimed was inferior education in inner city schools.

Carty, who officially still is principal, has not been at the school since April 26. School board officials say he has not been removed, but is studying Northern's problems at the Schools Center Building 25 blocks away.

Several teachers have charged that Carty's removal caused a breakdown in discipline and eroded the student's respect for authority.

Two instructors said their lives had been threatened several times by students.

"I'm so scared it isn't funny," said Mrs. Dumitra LeBeau.

Student leaders deny faculty members have been threatened or mistreated and counter with a charge that some teachers have been changing grades in reprisal against the students.

A 19-member committee composed of students, faculty and parents, is looking into grading standards, faculty qualifications, the physical plant, extra-curricular activities and other conditions at Northern.

The president of the Detroit Board of Education, Dr. Remus G. Robinson, has asked the panel for a preliminary report by June 14, ten days before the last day of school.

Some 250 students have been sent questionnaires asking them for their assessment of the situation at the school before and after the boycott.

The freedom school, set up at St. Joseph's Episcopal Church and attended by an estimated 1,700 students during the boycott still is in operation.

But it is attended by only about 25 students who stop after classes at Northern for impromptu seminars on Negro history, Negro contributions to the fine arts and individual tutoring.

Bendix Buys Proving Area

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Studebaker Corp.'s sprawling proving grounds was purchased by Bendix Corp. Wednesday for $850,000, officials reported.

The deal also included a donation of 175 acres by Bendix to St. Joseph County for use as a public park.

Bendix had been leasing the proving ground since Studebaker moved its auto making to Canada in December of 1963.

Studebaker has since gone out of the car building business altogether because of heavy losses.

Charles Heitman, a Bendix vice president, said the tract will be known as the Bendix Automotive Development Center.

The firm will test braking and steering systems, universal joints and other automotive equipment it manufactures.

Lausche Opposes Raise In Tolls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, said Wednesday he is opposed to an increase in St. Lawrence Seaway tolls.

Stating that the St. Lawrence Seaway Corp. is considering a 10 per cent increase, Lausche added:

"Any increase will certainly discourage, not encourage, increased tonnage with a resultant reduction in total revenues. Instead of increasing the tolls charged, it would be more prudent to extend the time within which the debt must be paid to the United States government."

The seaway has not been producing enough revenue to pay off its construction costs.

Military Draft Nearly Universal

By The Associated Press
Compulsory military service in one form or another is commonplace around the world. Britain, Canada and Japan are among the few nations that do not have it.

The questions of who is drafted, who is deferred and who is exempt are major issues in U.S. debate. These also are issues in many other countries. An Associated Press survey shows these highlights:

In Italy, which has a long, complex list of grounds for exemption and deferment, the son or brother of someone killed in a war cannot be drafted. The oldest or only grandson of someone with no unmarried children also is draft exempt, as is the oldest son in a family of seven or more children.

Exemptions Vary
France grants an exemption if a member of the potential draftee's family was killed in the service of the nation.

Exemption or deferment because of service by other members of a man's family is allowed in several countries. In the Netherlands, if two sons have been drafted, all others in a family are exempt.

In Italy, if two brothers are called up, one may ask for a delay in his induction until the brother has completed his service.

Iraq Toughest
One of the toughest draft laws is in Iraq, which has been waging a costly guerrilla war against Kurdish tribes men in its northern provinces for several years.

al years. Iraq's emergency regulations, passed in March, require service of anyone 18-50 who has not been in the armed forces before, including students. Deferments are granted only to persons sent abroad on government missions.

Mexico is one of the rare countries that does not defer students. Draftees train only on Sundays, when students are not in class. Exemptions are granted only for physical disabilities.

Soviet Draft
The Soviet Union drafts youths 17-18 who have finished high school and those 19 regardless of whether they have finished.

College students receive military training during the school year and also spend periods in training after their second and fourth years. After they graduate from college, most enroll in the Officers' Reserve and are subject to call in national emergencies. But some college graduates are called into service immediately, usually those with engineering or other technical specialties.

All men in Red China are subject to the draft at 18. Those who enter the army serve three years. The term of service in the air force is four years and in the navy five years.

Big 'Muskie' Is Caught

Warmer air and water temperatures should mean emergence of insects such as May flies, mosquitoes and midges, and fishing for splake, brown, brook, rainbow trout and panfish at the time of the "hatch" should bring success, the Conservation Department reports.

Recent cool temperatures and strong winds dampened fishing enthusiasm. Lowering of streams and warmer weather is expected to improve results. Northern pike and walleye fishing has been generally good in the district.

A few brook trout are being caught in Dutch Fred, Dillingham and Long lakes, and the Little Fox and east branch of the Fox River. A 15-inch brookie was taken in the Fox Sunday. Steelhead runs are about over.

Some rainbow were taken on the weekend in East Bay of Alger County and the Big Two-Hearted River. Some splake up to 2 1/2 pounds were taken in Moon Lake and some also in Pretty Lake.

Long Lake produced good catches of 10 to 12 inch brown trout, using night crawlers and hellgramites.

The warm water fishing report shows Northern pike being taken in Pickerel Lake and Sullivan and Snyder lakes. A 17-pound pike was taken from East Bay of Alger County and Herb Deneau of Gould City took a 15-pound pike from Milakok Lake.

Fishing continues good on Big Manistique Lake, which is yielding good walleye results. The Tahquamenon River Sunday yielded a 46-inch 18 pound, 12 ounce muskellunge for Charles Wilton of Lakeland. He caught the fish on a 8-pound test spinning line with red and white daredevil.

In the past week, Snyder Lake, Raber Bay and Les Che-neaux produced good yellow perch catches. Bullheads are biting on Dutch Fred Lake, on minnows and night crawlers.

Bluegill fishing is picking up and small and largemouth bass fishing should improve with warmer weather.

Public Safety Officers were called at 5:25 p. m., Tuesday to a fire in the Church of Jesus Christ, on Redwing School Road in Manistique Township. The interior of the building was gutted.

Officers said the fire started from an overheated stove. The fire unit was also called Wednesday, at 9:30 a. m., to the L. R. Vincent Sinclair gas station on West Shore Drive, when fire started from a spark in moving a gas pump. There was no damage.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m., Wednesday in Kefauver & Jackson Funeral Home for Harvey Patz, 46, who died suddenly Sunday night. The Rev. William Farnham officiated. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery. Pallbearers were Jack Mosser, Leon Heinz, Leo Cameron, James Rodgers, Harley Brock and William Anderson.

State Police ticketed Robert R. Jensen, 903 Saginaw, violation of basic speed law.

The Schoolcraft airport was used by 94 aircraft in May, compared to 61 last year in May. The flights included an ambulance trip, trips of Manistique Tool and Manufacturing, Inland Lime and Stone Co., and Manistique Pulp and Paper Co., and flights coming in for weekend fishing.

Bruce Skids of Merrill, Wis., former resident, has been awarded a 2-week music scholarship at Stevens Point University, after receiving numerous awards in state competition at Wisconsin Rapids and Eau Claire.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Maitland spent the weekend in Merrill, Wis., visiting the Skids family.

Brodie Latest Grid Leaper?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Quarterback John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers has thrown the ball to an attorney in lining up for his 1966 contract negotiations while the price war between pro football leagues rages.

The 31-year-old veteran, who set a National Football League completion record last season, engaged John Elliot Cook to represent him.

That came just a day after Don Klosterman, general manager for Houston in the American Football League, told of talks with the 49er star in the Texas city.

In San Francisco, that brought immediate speculation that the former Stanford great might be considering a switch of allegiance.

Brodie politely refused to discuss the situation. Asked about the Houston visit, he said, "I

Unhealthy Allen Is Making Phils Well With Hits

By The Associated Press. Rich Allen can't throw over 60 feet, but he's having no difficulty hitting over 400. Philadelphia's star third baseman, who missed 20 games with a dislocated right shoulder, is recuperating in the outfield and making the Phillies healthy with his bat.

Allen drove in four runs — three of them with a 447-foot home run — Wednesday night as the Phillies rallied for a 7-4 victory in the second game and completed a sweep of their doubleheader against Chicago. Philadelphia won the opener 4-3.

It was Allen's second 400-foot homer since returning to the line-up last week. He's had nine hits in 30 swings and shows a season's average of .338. With him back, the Phils have won six of eight.

Elsewhere Wednesday night, Willie Mays hit his 517th career homer as San Francisco edged Atlanta 4-3. Los Angeles blanked St. Louis 1-0 on Sandy Koufax' seven-hitter, Houston shut out Cincinnati 2-0 and Pittsburgh downed New York 3-1.

In the American League, Detroit whipped Minnesota 9-4. Chicago defeated New York 6-2. Washington split a doubleheader with Boston, winning 6-3 before losing 5-0. Kansas City dropped Cleveland 8-3 and Baltimore topped California 9-7 in 10 innings.

After Allen's tape measure homer, shortstop Bobby Wine broke the tie with the first of two doubles and then the Phils pulled away.

In the first game, Tony Taylor's eighth inning single brought Bill White home with the winning run. Chicago's Lee

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — "You can't watch Jack Nicklaus, Tony Lema, Gene Littler and the others without learning and improving."

That's the observation of Randy Petri, a pro golf newcomer in the field for today's first round of the $100,000 Memphis Open.

Petri, who helped the University of Houston win the NCAA title a year ago, joined the pro tour in January.

"In college, you ran into a dozen or so good golfers a year," Petri said. "In the PGA, there are 144 of them every week, and they're all capable of 65s."

Littler birdied five holes and eagled another Wednesday in posting his seven-under-par 63 — equaling the Colonial Country Club course record.

When Nicklaus won the 1965 Memphis Open by beating Johnny Pott in the playoff, he collected $9,000. This year's winner will get $20,000 — the amount of the total purse when the first Memphis Open was held in 1958.

Colonial is the smallest course on the PGA circuit — only 6,466 yards long. Accuracy is the big factor in winning here — not the short distance.

Golf Rookie Is Learning

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — "You can't watch Jack Nicklaus, Tony Lema, Gene Littler and the others without learning and improving."

That's the observation of Randy Petri, a pro golf newcomer in the field for today's first round of the $100,000 Memphis Open.

Petri, who helped the University of Houston win the NCAA title a year ago, joined the pro tour in January.

"In college, you ran into a dozen or so good golfers a year," Petri said. "In the PGA, there are 144 of them every week, and they're all capable of 65s."

Robert L. Luery

Mayor' Of Empire State Building From Escanaba

A native of Escanaba, Robert L. Luery, operates as the "mayor" of the miniature Empire State "city" whose building rises high above the New York skyline. From that tower, on a clear day, observers may see a ship at sea 40 miles distance.

The enormous structure, which has been compared to any of the Seven Wonders of the World, has Luery as general manager. He is also vice president of Hemley-Spear, Inc., one of the largest real estate management firms in the nation, chosen in 1961 to be the renting and management agency for the Empire State Building.

Luery is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Luery of Escanaba, and is a 1936 graduate of Escanaba High School.

In World War II Luery served in the Army Air Force and was overseas for 16 months. He was retired with the rating of captain.

Real Estate Forum in a recent issue devoted an article to the Empire State Building and its history—a history that included a survival of depressions and wars and the scorn of detractors who called it the "Empty State Building" when it was less than a third full at the time of opening. Now it has an enviable renting record—over 95 per cent average for many years.

Atop the building is the famous 22-story TV antenna tower.

Luery—to provide maximum service to the tenants—created a department devoted to helping the tenant make the most attractive and efficient use of his space.

"The department is one of five created by Luery when he was named general manager of the building," reports Real Estate Forum. "Under his reorganization plan departments

Driver Training Begins June 6

BARK RIVER—The summer driver education program for the Bark River-Harris Public Schools will begin under the direction of instructor, Paul Blewett, on Monday, June 6.

Students who wish to enroll are directed to report to the science room of the Elementary School at 8:30 a. m. for enrollment. Any boy or girl whose parents are residents of the school district and on that basis would regularly be enrolled in the district, are eligible to take the course. Class size must be limited, and if students must be chosen on a selective basis, this will be done on age, giving the oldest first preference.

The daily classes and driving periods will be established on Monday to try to provide times which are as convenient to students as possible. The course will operate for seven weeks, terminating July 22.

were created to direct renting, building operation, observatory, construction, alteration, and electronics and engineering."

"Luery's first step was to centralize all these departments in one area, simultaneously laying the groundwork for a streamlined system of inter-office communication, and releasing space for rental."

"Operating as unofficial 'mayor' of the miniature Empire State 'city', Luery holds weekly meetings with all department heads—but otherwise gives them virtual free rein."

Real Estate Forum concludes:

"In the final analysis, the Empire State Building is more than just the tallest man-made structure in the world. Those who conceived it, those who designed it, those who built it and those who are now charged with running it, have all instilled into its row of steel and stone a distinctive personality. . . . It is certain that none will ever match its flawless lines or startling beauty."

Boost Production

DALLAS (AP)—The chairman of the board of the Anaconda Co. predicted Wednesday his firm likely will increase its copper production in the second half of 1966.

In a speech before the Dallas Association of Investment Analysts, Board Chairman Charles Brinkerhoff said the rate of production should be higher than the first six months of the year, "especially if a strike can be avoided at our Andes copper operations in Chile."

Special Funds Given Schools

LANSING—The State Department of Education (SDE) today announced the approval of 75 special programs to aid educationally disadvantaged youth.

Most of the programs, which will be financed with $3.9 million in federal funds, will be summer courses in reading, arithmetic or language skills.

The SDE had processed 778 projects totaling $32.8 million for this school year under the provisions of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act passed by Congress last year.
